

Artemis ~ Goddess of the Hunt

Artemis is the daughter of Zeus and the Titaness, Leto. She is the twin sister of Apollo. She has never married. She is not only the goddess of the hunt, but she is also the moon goddess. Artemis is responsible for the movement of the moon across the night sky, which she does with a chariot led by stags. She is a huntress and she is the protector of animals and young children.

Artemis carries a silver bow and she appears silver in color, like the moonlight. She never missed with her arrows. She has healing powers just like her twin brother. Her symbols include: the stag, and the moon, and the cypress.
