

Hera ~ Queen of the Gods

Hera is the daughter of the Titans, Kronos and Rhea, and the wife of Zeus, who also happens to be her brother. She has two sons, Ares and Hephaestus, and two daughters, Eris and Hebe. She is incredibly beautiful and powerful, but she is also jealous and vain. Hera was often jealous of Athena and Aphrodite. She is known as the protector of women and marriage, even though she had little time for mortals.

Hera is very upset by Zeus and his many affairs. She is often plotting revenge on Zeus or his lady friends. Zeus often looked to Hera for advice when ruling the other Olympians. Her symbols include: the peacock and the cow.
